GROWN IN SUNNY, SOUTHERN ONTARIO

A Continuous Effort

The campaign recently launched and prosecuted with considerable vigor in cities, towns and villages and throughout the countryside to salvage waste materials which can be converted into munitions of war or used indirectly for war purposes will rank as one of the many valuable contributions which Canadians have made and are making in the all-out fight to give Nazism a knock out blow.

With the completion of the first onslaught on hoards of hidden but useless treasures—useless to those who have been hoarding them, it will be found that thousands and thousands of tons of materials which could not possibly serve any useful purpose stored in attics and basements and lying in waste heaps have been recovered and made use of as aid in the great objective in Canadian history—the defeat of Hitler and concurrently the preservation of freedom and liberty.

A careful appraisal of materials which can be of value in the war effort reveals an astonishing variety and range of commodities which have been regarded as debris in industrial life, such things as bottles, rags of all kinds, old socks, old clothing and many other materials and discarded articles, which can be rehabilitated and made to serve a useful purpose.

Woolen rags undergo a transformation that is hard to believe. After this type of rags reaches industry, through the voluntary groups of the transformation begins. They are thoroughly cleaned, sterilized and then shredded. The shredded material is next mixed with live wool and the combination is woven into several kinds of heavy cloth which makes blankets and uniforms, so essential to the comfort and needs of the armed forces. Collecting wool rags and turning them back into industry is definitely a direct contribution to the war effort.

Nor are cotton rags less valuable to the cause which the people of Canada are espousing. White or colored cotton rags find their way finally to factories which make "wipers" for machinery. An old house dress, which seems of so little use, if contributed to the local salvage campaign may eventually be turned into the cloth and greases from a lathe that is turning out a bomb to be dropped on Berlin.

Other Textiles Valuable

Other types of materials which find use in the war effort. Linens, for example, are being turned back into value the make the fine grade of paper needed for important military and state documents. Even old silk stockings may be turned to good purpose, as is now being done in the United States, where they are recovered and the threads that still have tensile strength are being used a second time, a possible use which is now being investigated by the Canadian department of national war services.

Jute sacks are still another type of secondary textile having salvage value. Owing to the slow delivery of jute from India and the problem of getting shipping space, there has been difficulty in supplying the needs of the Canadian market with new bags. As a result, second hand jute bags have appreciable value.

The value of old machinery and metallic waste in other forms, such as discarded iron, steel and other metals is almost too well known to need comment. They can be reconditioned and processed for use in the manufacture of munitions and other forms of war material and equipment.

In a country which consumes large quantities of canned goods, it seems unfortunate that the discarded tin cans are not an economic feasibility, at least, at the present time, and especially in view of the fact that tin is one of the most valuable of war materials.

Some time ago the Automobile department came to the conclusion that nothing could be done to make use of discarded tin cans, due largely to the cost of transportation over long distances and the expense of processing before the old cans can be turned into a useful material. Even in the United States, where conditions are much more favorable for collecting and converting tin cans into useful material than in Canada, it has been found impracticable to do so, after experimentation in de-tinning factories in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

A committee of the National Academy of Sciences in the United States has recently recommended against the establishment of more such factories "unless and until an emergency in the supply of tin renders it imperative to conserve tin without regard to its cost."

An Accelerating Need

The work that has been done to date is undoubtedly of untold value to the Canadian war effort, but after the first enthusiasm has worn off, the effort should not be allowed to languish. On the contrary the collection of salvageable material should be a continuous process, not only because there will be less of it available, once the first great accumulation of years of waste material has been disposed of, but because the need for it may accelerate as the war progresses and becomes more protracted.

Citizens can continue to serve their country well and further promote the war effort if, from now on, everything that could possibly be of use is set aside, sorted out in the process of laying it out for future use and held until sufficient means are available to make delivery worth while or until the call again goes out for more waste.

Good Cash Crop

Brome grass seed is proving to be one of the best cash crops in Alberta. About 2,000,000 pounds were produced last year, a quantity that would have seeded a wide area had it not been sold largely to the United States.

"For 13 years I had suffered from constipation, trying all kinds of remedies without any degree of cure. Then I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly and the constipation results. I wish I could tell all people who are suffering from constipation how good ALL-BRAN is. Please try it!" So writes Mrs. Paul Gierrey, Joliet, Quebec.

If you have been doing yourself well with cereals, try ALL-BRAN "Better Way." But it's very dry and drink plenty of water. But remember this crisp, delicious cereal is not only good for you, it's also a time saver. Get ALL-BRAN at your favorite grocer. It's sold in individual serving packages at restaurants. It's sold by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Mobile Kitchens

Junior Red Cross of Saskatchewan Purchase 40 At Cost Of $15,100

Out of savings of children in the public schools of Saskatchewan, some of them earned laboriously and with intent of young people to aid their country in the war effort, the Junior Red Cross Society in Saskatchewan recently voted, out of a total of $15,100 collected by the children since January, 1940, to pay for their part for four mobile kitchens, each costing $3,500.00. In January the members had purchased the first unit of this kind of equipment at the same price, making with this year a total gift to the fire fighters of Great Britain and the thousands of victims of five of these units, costing $15,500.00.

The money was raised cheerfully and painstakingly. Some small groups in rural schools swept the school house for certain period for small amounts; others arranged for entertainments to which their parents and friends came and provided a result in money sometimes as high as $700 and $800.

Since the first opening months of the war the children of Saskatchewan and all Canada desired to take a part in aiding not only the armed forces of the Dominion, as their parents have done, but also in procuring alleviation for the sufferings of children, especially women and children who are the actual victims in largest numbers of the enemy's savage bombing attacks on defenceless homes and communities.

The National Office of the Red Cross in Toronto had made a recent request for Canadian people to provide 30 of these mobile kitchens. The January donation by Saskatchewan's Junior Red Cross, together with the paid for the first. Up to recent date 10 of these units had been provided and paid for by clubs and other groups of persons. Altogether, with these five, the Junior Red Cross Branches of the Dominion have made a total of nine mobile kitchens. The mobile kitchens, which have facilities for cooking full-course hot meals, are being sent to England and each of the five will carry a name plate stating that they were donated by the Saskatchewan Junior Red Cross.

Antidotes For Blitzkrieg

British Imperial Forces In Africa Learning Many New Tricks

Antidotes for the German blitzkrieg are being developed every day. Thanks to the blistering attacks on the blundering Australians have learned, from weeks of constant contact, that the secret approach to a German tank is from behind on the blind side, and that the best way to knock it out is to climb up, pry open the hatch, ret lid, drop a hand grenade inside and at on the lid five seconds to prevent the occupants escaping.

They have learned, despite their armor plating, German dive bombers and fighters are vulnerable to the fire, for riflemen have now one down while it was diving at them. Flame throwers hauled to the battle line by tanks, the British have learned the easy way to anti-tank rifles once the Germans' tactics are learned. They are learning the German snipers' tricks, and the respect the Germans have for a British artillery barrage. From trial and error methods, they are learning the wrong ways as well as right ones, a case in point being that of a young subaltern who walked up to a stalled German tank, rapped on the door, and handed a fuse-set grenade to the German who answered the knock. This technique failed because the Germans took one look at the grenade and the tank.

Air Force Radio Mechanics

Western Canada Took The Lead In Enlistments

Figures given by Canada's air minister, Hon. G. G. Power, showed how western Canada took the lead in enlistments of air force radio mechanics when an urgent call came from Britain a few months ago for radio specialists.

The air ministry combined the whole country and soon obtained all available men with training. The call was issued on April 8 for 2,500 young men to train for the special radio work. Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Calgary led all Canada in filling the initial quotas, and reports from all R.C.A.F. recruiting depots showed that by April 15 there had been 1,418 enlistments and 1,134 pending, a total of 2,552. In 10 days then the call was filled.

Actual figures obtained from the air minister showed that both Winnipeg and Vancouver achieved increases of 50 per cent. over the original quotas allotted to them. Winnipeg started with a quota of 200 April 8, and two days later had 200 enlistments and 258 over. The recruiting report was 80 enlisted and nine pending. But by April 18 the figures showed a big spurt, and there were 173 enlistments and 238 over applications waiting. The authorities then raised Winnipeg's quota to 250 and on April 22 had 250 enlistments, 257 pending. Later the quota was raised to 300, and as Mr. Power said, the quota was filled.

Vancouver started with a quota of 150 and in two days had enlisted 37 with 11 waiting. By April 18, the Vancouver standing was 122 enlisted and 15 waiting, rising by April 23 to 146 enlisted with 64 waiting. The quota was raised to 200 and it was filled by May 15.

In both Winnipeg and Vancouver young enlistments, under 18, were being enlisted, under 18, were being enlisted. The boys have already gone to temporary training posts. The western points being the air school at Penhold, Alberta. They move shortly to special courses at universities and on arrival they will go overseas for additional operational training and actual service. They start out as aircraftman first class, $12.20 a day, receive promotion at the end of the course to leading aircraftman at $15.00, and about five per cent. quality for commissions.

The air ministry will pay the university $200 tuition for each radio boy, and the classes to start shortly include 250 at the university of Manitoba, 80 at Saskatoon, 120 at Edmonton and 150 at U.B.C., Vancouver.

SELECTED RECIPES

PREMIUM PIE

Factory Girls In Britain Now Choose Own Headgear

The management of a defence factory "somewhere in England" tried to make the factory girls wear hats provided by the firm while at work.

On May 4, a girl, defying the fashion "dictators" turned up at work wearing a turban, and was instantly dismissed. The other girls acted quickly and next day all came to work wearing turbans and stopped work. The dismissed girl was quickly reinstated, and the girls can now wear what they like.

TENSION GROWS AGAINST STANDBY TAKEN BY VICHY

London.—French relations with the democratic world are turning rapidly from bad to worse. Official threats, unofficial charges and propaganda blasts all add to the tension between Vichy and London and Washington. Britain has warned Vichy flatly that she feels free to attack any part of the French empire where the Germans appear. British sources speak this warning with charges that Vichy already has gaoled Spanish economy to produce weapons for Hitler's army.

French relations with America are aggravated by a Paris newspaper report that Martinique is arming against possible United States attack. The paper says French authorities are determined to blow up the citadel and French gold reserves, rather than yield to attack by the United States. State Cordell Hull discounts speculation of any American move on Martinique. He says these reports arise from German, or pro-German propaganda sources.

The British warning to Vichy was stated in blunt terms by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. He told parliament that no explanation by Vichy can conceal the fact that France is following a course which may place her resources and territory at Hitler's disposal.

If France continues active collaboration with the Germans, he said, Britain no longer will distinguish between unoccupied and occupied zones. Rather, said Eden, Britain will help herself to attack the enemy "wherever he may be found."

At the same time, a well-informed British source asserts that, if French industrial plants already are working for Hitler, he names the Renault, Citroën and Peugeot works, and says they are turning out airplanes, tanks, motor torpedo boats, and tank parts and ammunition for the German army.

In addition, the British spokesman charges, 80 per cent. of rubber and other colonial products recently landed at Marseilles have gone to Germany.

London diplomats hear that Hitler, in an effort to win Vichy over to collaboration, is trying to sell Mussolini on a modification of his territorial aspirations. It is said Hitler has offered II Duce a major share of Jugoslavia, if he'll shelve his demands against France.

Fliers For Middle East

More Australian Air Squadrons May Be Sent Soon

Sydney, Australia.—Air Minister John McEwen announced that more to the Middle East shortly to assist Australian air squadrons may be sent the Royal Air Force in Syria and Iraq.

He said the real danger in the Middle East is the possibility of a surprise attack from the east, and that if the R.A.F. is short of personnel against this will now be met by the Commonwealth air training plan.

Canadian Freighters Sunk.
Montreal.—The vice-president of the Peterson Shipping Co., E. B. Sutherland, of Port William, Ontario, says he has received official information that the company's freighter, Portadoc, has been sunk by enemy action off the coast of Africa. The Portadoc is one of the Great Lakes freighters committed for ocean traffic after the outbreak of war.

Largest Ocean Convoy

New York.—The largest ocean convoy in history, more than 50 ships loaded with $100,000,000 worth of war supplies and food, has crossed to Great Britain safely from Canada. Collier's Weekly reported. The report came from Quentin Reynolds, staff correspondent of the magazine, who made the crossing aboard one of the vessels.

Veteran Publisher

J. H. Woods, Of The Calgary Herald, Dies At Age Of 78 Years
Calgary.—A veteran western Canadian newspaperman, J. H. Woods, president of South Western Press, Ltd., publishers of the Calgary Herald, died here at his home.

Mr. Woods, who was 78 years of age, had been ill for several months. The death of Mr. Woods brought to an end the career of one of the best known newspapermen in Canada.

For years a powerful factor in the economic and political life of Canada, Mr. Woods had striven unceasingly to improve trade relations between Canada and the United States. Always he urged expansion of Canada's trade "to make Canada a great nation."

Mr. Woods was president of the Canadian chamber of commerce for two years, from 1929 until 1931. He was also chairman of the Canadian trade and goodwill mission to South America in 1931.

Mr. Woods was one of the men responsible for the founding of the Old Western Associated Press in 1907, and later took a foremost part in the formation of The Canadian Press in 1917 and 1918, and again in 1925 until 1928.

Mr. Woods was chairman of the Canadian delegation to the Empire Press Union in Melbourne, Australia, in 1925, and to the similar conference in London in 1930. He was chairman of the Canadian section of the Empire Press Union from December, 1925, until his resignation this year.

Among his many other interests Mr. Woods devoted a great deal of his energy to the Boy Scout movement, and from 1932 until this year served as provincial commissioner for Alberta.

In recognition of his services to this organization he was decorated with the Canadian Red Cross medal in 1932. This year he was elected president of the Alberta Boy Scouts' Association, and was given the provincial commissioniership.

In the King's birthday honors list of 1934, Mr. Woods was named Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and for his work for the Red Cross movement he received the King's Jubilee medal.

He was a member of the national council of the Canadian Red Cross for many years and received the honorary membership medal of that organization in 1935.

Force Almost Doubled

Canada's Mounted Police With Every Branch Of Armed Services

Toronto.—Canada's famed mounted police are now working with every branch of the armed services. Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in an interview, here, said he was in Toronto on a routine inspection visit.

The strength of the R.C.M.P. now stands at 4,000 men, Commissioner Wood said. This is almost double the peacetime strength.

Crime in Canada generally had shown a decrease since the beginning of the war, and registration cards, "primarily intended to enable us to locate our human resources, have been valuable" in law enforcement.

"There is no evidence of any underground Bundist groups," he said. "Such groups and clubs were broken up at the outbreak of war, and they are not now operative."

Deceases Ship's Cargo Contained No Contraband

Toronto.—Dr. Ernest Pathy, of Toronto, Canadian and United States representative of the Alexandria Navigation Company, the owner of the ill-fated Zanzam, said that "not one pound of contraband" was on the ship's cargo when it was sunk.

"The cargo of 4,000 tons was for all sorts of civilian needs in Egypt," he said. "There was a large quantity of fertilizer for Egyptian cotton, steel bars and steel plates for building purposes, foodstuffs, and newspapers for Egyptian newspapers. There was nothing at all of a military nature."

Dr. Pathy said the Zanzam was loaded for $400,000.

SPEEDY CARGO SHIPS BEING BUILT IN UNITED STATES

Washington.—A hint that the United States is rushing preparations to employ numbers of relatively small aircraft carriers to safeguard merchant ships came from Navy Secretary Frank Knox, who said guardedly that the navy is "very busy" on actual construction.

Without explaining whether such craft might be used except under actual conditions, Knox said that in connection with the controversy over delivery of munitions to Great Britain, it was "silly" to dwell exclusively on methods developed during the first Great War for protecting convoys from surface and underwater attack.

A speedy cargo ship is being built experimentally as a carrier, and a score of new type "transports" and conventional plane carriers are under construction or planned, but Knox declined to divulge just what steps are being taken to cope with the problem presented by Germany's serial attack on British-bound shipping.

"It's one of the things we are not talking about," he told his press conference.

Knox reported that the navy's air force had been increased by more than 50 per cent. within a year, with a net reinforcement of 1,204 planes. On May 1 there were 3,476 naval aircraft of all types in service.

Knox disclosure of the navy's intense interest in plane-carrying craft was in response to a question whether consideration is being given to the use of small carriers to protect convoys.

THE QUEEN GETS FIRST HAND INFORMATION

Regina.—Canadian teachers have contributed $15,540 toward the war effort through a fund started by the British postal workers' strike in December, according to G. D. Eamer, secretary of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Association.

"We have no objection to him being a house-painter, but only to the fact that... he forsook that honorable trade for the dishonorable calling of a gangster."

He said there was "no doubt as to the outcome of the war." Victory was sure, but "when is that victory to come? You people can answer that question better than anyone else."

"Canada has a magnificent part to play in this war. Every blow of a hammer in factories manufacturing war materials, every rivet pounded into a ship's hull, every bolt tightened on the construction of an airplane in one of your factories, shortens the war."

"The workers of Canada can do as much to win this war as any other group in any other belligerent nation in the world. The workers are of inestimable importance, and no society ever succeeds without placing the highest possible standards on the rights of the working man."

He told of a visit to a factory manufacturing war materials "somewhere in Canada," and said the workers in that factory had been "working seven days a week, every week, since the factory started operations last October."

Stuck To The Ship

British Captain And Crew Brave Fire Of German Bombers

New York.—How a British sea captain and some of his men braved the fire of German bombers and returned to their abandoned ship in a motor tanker San Conrado was reported in maritime circles here.

Reports said that the 7,982-ton motor tanker San Conrado was recently attacked six times by three German planes before she was abandoned. A destroyer picked up her.

Seeing her still afloat, the master with his second and third mates and part of the crew returned to try to bring her into port.

But she was attacked again and had to be abandoned. She was taken in tow and the next day attacked for the third time. On the following day she caught fire and was given up as a total loss.

Postmasters Contribute

$3,000 Raised For British Post Office Relief Fund

Ottawa.—Officials of the Canadian Postmasters' Association announced that more than $3,000 has been contributed so far to the British post office relief fund. The money will be used to aid widows and children of British postal workers killed in air raids or on active service.

The association's appeal is being conducted through Dominion Secretary Charles D. Griffin, of Estevan, Sask. Previously postal employees donated $6,000 in war saving certificates to the Canadian government. Officials said postal associations in the United States are joining in the new appeal.

Contribution From Teachers

Regina.—Canadian teachers have contributed $15,540 toward the war effort through a fund started by the British postal workers' strike in December, according to G. D. Eamer, secretary of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Association.

Will Increase Difficulties

Air Raiders Over London Are Due For A Surprise

Lisbon.—Ronald Tree, parliamentary secretary for the ministry of information, said on his return from the United States that "we have no surprise for the Germans which will further their already increasing difficulties in flying over England."

"More long," Mr. Tree said, "most of their bombers which dare to fly over England will not be able to return home." He declined to specify what the "surprise" is.

Mr. Tree, who spent six weeks in the United States, there were more than 4,000,000 tons of American shipping available for British use by 1942 and "swarms of American planes would be in action before next spring." Among the planes, he said, would be a new type with a range of 7,000 miles.

B.C. Steel Mill

Rolling Mill To Be Established At The Coast

Vancouver.—Establishment of a steel rolling mill here was announced at Ottawa by Munitions Minister Hon. James Duguid.

It is estimated that accumulation of this scrap amounts to 70,000 tons annually. With establishment of a rolling mill it would be turned out as plate steel for use in the huge 100-vessel shipbuilding program being launched here.

AIR MASTERY IS NECESSARY FOR WINNING THE WAR

Toronto.—Sir Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada, said in an address here to a combined meeting of the Canadian Air Empire and the British Commonwealth air training plan "would make decisive our air mastery over Germany before many months are out."

"The plan has grown far beyond the bounds of the original plan," he said. "Wherever plans are made of the air will have a priceless advantage over our opponent, and our training plan is many months ahead of its schedule."

The high commissioner, nearing completion of his two-day visit to Toronto, told his audience of about 700 persons that the people of Britain would never give in and spoke of the Canadian wheat board's people against infringements on their rights.

"We have had bad kings in our time," he said. "Back in the 17th century one of them tried to impose on us what he called the 'divine right of kings.' We did stand for it. Well, if we refuse in the 17th century to yield to the right of a king, now, in the 20th century we certainly won't yield to the diabolical right of a house painter."

"We have no objection to him being a house-painter, but only to the fact that... he forsook that honorable trade for the dishonorable calling of a gangster."

He said there was "no doubt as to the outcome of the war." Victory was sure, but "when is that victory to come? You people can answer that question better than anyone else."

"Canada has a magnificent part to play in this war. Every blow of a hammer in factories manufacturing war materials, every rivet pounded into a ship's hull, every bolt tightened on the construction of an airplane in one of your factories, shortens the war."

"The workers of Canada can do as much to win this war as any other group in any other belligerent nation in the world. The workers are of inestimable importance, and no society ever succeeds without placing the highest possible standards on the rights of the working man."

He told of a visit to a factory manufacturing war materials "somewhere in Canada," and said the workers in that factory had been "working seven days a week, every week, since the factory started operations last October."

To Conserve Tiptails

Canadian.—The urgent wartime need for conserving tiptails may force the manufacture of lipstick to be discontinued. Similarly, war materials may be stored in black sheet-iron containers and preserved fruits may be packed in waxed paper-board cans, government officials said.

REDUCTION OF WHEAT SURPLUS IS IN PROSPECT

Ottawa.—A router tick has appeared in the Canadian wheat market darkened by the weight of a surplus which according to present calculations will reach 100,000,000 bushels on July 31, 1941.

Bureau of statistics records show that when exports for 1940-41 now were higher than those for the same period in 1939-40 after they had lagged far behind in the earlier part of the season.

The exports for the present year zoomed ahead in the week ended May 16 with the shipment of 8,821,864 bushels. This was the largest export of wheat for seven days since the week ended Dec. 3, 1932, official records showed. It contrasted with weekly shipments which often dropped below 1,000,000 from August to December, 1940.

Total exports for this year at May 16 stood at 127,966,730 bushels compared with 150,408,470 for the same date last year.

The grain in exports in recent months—the improved shipments in comparison with last year started in January—means that a cheerful revision of estimates will be resumed.

It is estimated that the surplus of wheat existing in Canada is unestimated, in light of export figures then available, that total exports would govern the surplus. The surplus, however, estimates were that 180,000,000 bushels would go overseas, and it was on this basis that the 1941-42 federal wheat policy was designed. On the present rate of shipments 180,000,000 bushels of exports seemed probable.

The wheat policy provided a limitation on deliveries of 200,000,000 bushels of wheat existing in the year estimating that exports will be 180,000,000 bushels and domestic requirements 50,000,000. In view of the surplus now existing in Canada, it is probable that any upward revision in deliveries permitted will be made but the importance of the surplus overseas means the burden of carrying the surplus, for which storage accommodation has to be provided, will have to be reduced.

Commitments of the Dominion government in respect to that part of the July 31, 1941, carryover would be 180,000,000 bushels. The wheat board will range from $350,000,000 to $400,000,000, officials said. In 1941-42, the government will have to pay carrying charges on the board's share of Canadian carryover of about $50,000,000.

"These figures of rising exports in recent months do not mean we are out of the woods or that any surplus now existing in Canada has been planned for 1941-42 is warranted," an official said. "But it does mean that the exportation of wheat brighter than we had expected some months ago, and if the increased production of wheat in Canada is a good deal in dollars and cents savings to Canada when the crop year ends on July 31, 1941."

"The assurance of the assurance of substantial wheat sales in 1941-42, for Trade Minister MacKinnon announced in the House of Commons that the British ministry of food had agreed to buy 120,000,000 bushels in wheat future, the largest single wheat transaction in the history of the world grain trade."

Raised Money For Spitfires

Famous Elsa Maxwell Held Big Party In Vancouver

Vancouver.—Elsa Maxwell held Big World, internationally famous hostess, showed Vancouver and the rest of Canada how to raise $10,000 to help buy Spitfire fighter planes for Britain by throwing a party that still had this coast metropolitan talking.

"Estimated $100,000 was paid in money into the Hotel Vancouver to help Miss Maxwell plan her party over and over at first had been here since her world fame. The money will be forwarded direct to Lord Beaverbrook, minister of state at London.

Taking The Census

Questionnaires May Be Published In The News

Ottawa.—Census questionnaires may be published in the newspapers so that people may have their answers ready when the census taker calls. Trade Minister MacKinnon told the House of Commons.

T. L. Church (Cons., Toronto-Broadview) asked that the questionnaires be sent out by mail in advance so that people may have their answers ready when the enumerators call. Mr. MacKinnon said this proposal has not yet been approved of the census branch officials.

MORE EGGS ARE NEEDED FOR BRITISH MARKET

Great Britain has ordered 5,400,000 dozen eggs from Canada for shipment during the month of May, 60 per cent of which are to grade "A" and 40 per cent "B". To fill this order, the capacity of the flocks in Canada will be taxed to the maximum, and egg producers will be faced with the problem of increasing their production.

- To do so and to insure that the eggs marketed will be of the best possible quality, the following suggestions should be observed:
1. Do not sell producing hens in May.
 2. Feed poultry a good laying mash.
 3. Remove males and produce fertile eggs, they keep better.
 4. Gather eggs four times each day. Keep them in cool rooms and market them daily if possible.
 5. Keep all equipment clean.

"IF YOU SEE ANYBODY LOOKING FOR A GOOD BULL, I'VE GOT ONE FOR SALE"

Pleasing the word along to your neighbors that you have a bull, or a horse, or a hundred bushels of seed oats for sale, is advertising. If you wanted to give your advertising message wider distribution, you'd have it printed in the local paper.

That is exactly what the advertisers are doing in this issue—letting it be known what they have to market.

They can't afford to misrepresent their merchandise, because the news of sharp practice soon gets around. To continue selling, an advertiser must have a reputation for honest dealing. He is entitled to an honest profit as long as he gives the purchaser his money's worth.

Advertising continues to be useful because it renders a service, both to the seller and the buyer. It pays to advertise . . . and it pays to read the other fellow's advertisement.

A member of a London bomb-disposal squad, lowered carefully into the crater of an unexploded German bomb, sat down calmly on the bomb and began removing the fuse. Suddenly he yelled: "Get me out of here! Pull me up!"

His colleagues hauled him up in record time and ran for shelter. The man, however, remained at the edge of the crater, pointed downward and exclaimed: "Look at that big rat down there!"

A maiden lady lived in a small house in the country with one maid. One morning the bell rang. The maid admitted the visitor, an encaustic of fiver, arranging for homes for children evacuated from London, then she rushed upstairs.

"Please, mum," she blurted out, breathlessly, "you've got to have two babies, and the man's downstairs!"

Cop: "Does Joe come into your place often?"
Bartender: "Yes, he's one of my unsaviliest customers."

WHAT IS IT WORTH TO YOU ? TO BE A FREE MAN IN A FREE LAND

As free citizens we are facing our greatest crisis. Many of our people are offering their lives in the battle for freedom, and now we are asked to lend our money to back them up.

There is no doubt in our minds about the worthiness of the cause for which we fight. We all know that the men who are in the front line of our battle have to be supported. We must give them tanks, planes, guns, ammunition and all the technical equipment necessary to enable them to stand up against the long prepared armies of the dictators. This takes money which we on the home front must supply. Every Canadian has to face the personal responsibility of subscribing to Canada's Victory Loan.

Canadians can be counted on to put their shoulders to the wheel when they understand the need. It is a need not only to help in the defence of Britain but to stop the aggressors before they reach across the ocean. Make no mistake about it, if the dictators are not stopped, then all that we hold dear in life will go down before them.

The success of this loan is not only to be measured by the amount of money subscribed, but, by the large number of individual investment, by people of modest means and modest income. By subscribing in large numbers we demonstrate how solidly Canadians are behind their sons and brothers in this war. The larger the number the more widely will purchasing power in the form of interest be distributed among every day people in all provinces. The more widely the Victory Bonds are spread among our people the more easily we shall meet any problems of the future.

Here in Carbon, we have been asked to raise $14,000 as our quota. Dig deep into your savings and buy Victory Bonds. Wear a Victory Loan button to show that you are not just looking at the war but that you are right in the war.

"Well why don't you fight then?"
"Cause I ain't where I come from."

A small boy once was given two images of plaster, coated on the outside with pink sugar. He wanted to eat the images, but he was warned not to do so. "They are poison," he was told. "If you eat them, it will kill you!"

However, the boy was dubious. He had been cheated before by grown-up people. Finally, he had a young friend to spend the day with him and that night, it was discovered, one of the images had disappeared. His mother, nearly frantic, rushed to him.

"Harold," she said, "where is that pink image?"
Harold frowned as he answered defiantly: "I gave it to Richard, and if he's alive tomorrow, I'm going to eat the other one myself."

WORLD'S WEEK

By HAROLD L. WEIR
Assoc. Editor, The Edmonton Bulletin

President Roosevelt's proclamation of an unlimited state of national emergency in the United States is still, of course, the big and important news. It will continue to be important news until every detail of his plan unfolds. So far, he has laid down a blanket policy of aid for Britain and of protection for British shipping on the seas. He has spoken even with the bitterness of the subversive elements in industry and on the public platforms that are interfering with the American program of national security. He has defined the possible occupation of Dakar and other points by the Axis as hostile acts against the United States.

Above all, he has assumed special powers that will permit him to suspend wages and wage war if he deems it necessary.

All these things, however, are of a more or less general nature. It will be his application of these principles that will supply the surprises and the big news.

It is one thing, for instance, to talk bitterly of subversive elements. It will be another and bigger thing when Charles Augustus Lindbergh is tucked away in jail without benefit of habeas corpus.

It is a splendid thing to know that the United States has virtually defined her position as a state of war. It will be a stupendous thing when the United States definitely directs that war effort against the common foe.

Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation is vital not so much for what it does as for the magnificent things it promises.

First, that Hitler, being the supreme liar, undoubtedly had aspirations in this hemisphere, and Secondly, that the Nazis were in deadly fear that the United States would discover their American aspirations.

Japan, too, reacted in an amazing manner.

No sooner was President Roosevelt's speech sizzling over the cables than Japanese editors began to write editorials of thanksgiving that Mr. Roosevelt had directed no embarrassing hints toward Japan.

Other Japanese journalists hoped, rather plaintively, that involvement with the Axis would not lead to the destruction of Japanese foreign trade in Washington, the Japanese aim.

Economical Housewives

There was a day when the housewives bought the faraway "bargain" in the belief that it was good business to save a few pennies. But experience taught them a few things. Today's housewives do not buy blindly. They examine the article first and when satisfied with the product they pay a fair price at home. It is economical to make your purchases in CARBON employment insurance commission has created a plan which should operate with the least inconvenience to the employer and to the greatest possible benefit to the workers.

A unique and simple system of making contributions to the Fund through the Employer purchasing special stamps from the Post Office and affixing them each week in a book designed for the purpose, is the record of each worker's contributions, as well as the employer's. In this way every worker can find out exactly at any time where he or she stands in respect to Unemployment Insurance.

There are some classes of workers who are not eligible for Unemployment Insurance, and there are certain conditions which affect all workers. Both employers and employees should familiarize themselves with the terms of the plan which will be made available by the Postmaster in the locality you live.

A part of the plan is the opening of Employment Offices throughout Canada where workers may seek jobs and employers can seek workers. These offices will be opened as rapidly as possible to facilitate the most effective utilization of Canada's labour force during the war and in preparation for the return of workers to peacetime employment after war work has ceased.

PRIME MINISTER KING TO TOUR WEST IN JUNE

Prime Minister W.L. Mackenzie King is considering plans for a trip to the Pacific Coast, probably in June, it was stated in Ottawa last week.

Mr. King has made no final decision in the matter, it was said. But well-informed circles would not be surprised if he left for the west immediately after the ceremonies in Kingston on June 7, to commemorate the death of Sir John A. Macdonald.

Training centres on the prairies and in British Columbia and plants engaged in munition and ship production would be visited. Mr. King also would visit his constituency of Prince Albert, Sask. It was said the prime minister would bring a number of meetings during his tour of about three weeks.

The UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PLAN

To the Employer...

Contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund become payable as from July 1st, 1941.

Contributions are made by the employer and the employee, and are paid by the purchase of Unemployment Insurance stamps by the employer from the Post Offices.

The employer's contributions are deducted from his wages by the employer.

Stamps will be affixed to a special book called the Insurance Book, by the employer. The book is the employee's record of contributions, and when he becomes unemployed it forms the record from which insurance benefits may be paid. Full details will be the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails.

The plan of procedure has been adopted after consultation with employer and employee associations and is one which has been based upon thirty years' experience in Great Britain.

The Dominion Government adds 20% to the combined employer-employee contribution.

HON. NORMAN A. McLAINT,
Minister of Labour

Contributions, and in addition, pays the administration costs which include the operation of a National Employment Service, for the convenience of employers and employees.

Contributions are payable by all persons while in employment and by their employers, with the exceptions listed in the panel below.

The first duty of every employer will be to REGISTER WITH THE COMMISSION by completing the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails, and obtaining and issuing insurance books for all his employees. If there is doubt as to whether your employees, or any of them, are insured, ask for instructions when you return the postcard. If you do not receive a form through the mail go to the nearest Post Office and ask for one. All employers must complete registration prior to June 14th, 1941.

The Commission feels that it can be assured of the full cooperation of all employers. Nevertheless, attention is drawn to the fact that registration is compulsory and any failure to register is an infraction of the law and is subject to penalties.

PATRIOTIC BUSINESS MEN

This issue contains a number of advertisements, sponsored by patriotic business men of Carbon, urging you to make a supreme effort to buy Victory Bonds in the current Loan now being offered to the citizens of Canada.

This loan is not a request for money donations, but a request that you put your savings, now in the future into Canadian Bonds which will bear a fair rate of interest, payable every six months. It is an investment above the average, and at the same time you are providing money to help win this war—money that must come from the people of Canada if we are to keep our exchange position in the money markets of the world.

Make the sacrifice—do without the luxuries of life and invest the money in Victory Bonds today!

WHAT ABOUT THE HUTTERITES?

Arrangements are being made to have conscientious objectors to military training, Mennonites and Doukhobors, placed in road work camps for three or four months at a rate of 50 cents per day, with board and lodging, but the objectors must pay their own clothing bill.

This is a wise move on the part of the Minister of War Services and it may lessen the number of objectors, who would rather have the $1.30 a day and clothing, than the 50c per day.

But the announcement says nothing of the Hutterites being called to work camps! We have plenty of them in Alberta and if they object to military training, we also have plenty of road work to be done. And boy, wouldn't it be fun to be straw boss for a time on a Hutterite road gang?

ROAD WORK FOR MENNONITES AND DOUKHOBORS PLANNED

Conscientious objectors, Mennonites and Doukhobors, in the 21-year-old class will be required to perform labor service in line of military training. War Services Minister Gardiner announced in the House of Commons last week.

"The 21-year-old class now is being called out for military training," said Mr. Gardiner. "Members of that age class whose military training is postponed, as either conscientious objectors, Mennonites or Doukhobors now will be required to render either three or four months labor service in line of military training and be subject to such further labor service as may be decided in the future."

Arrangements have been made with the mines department to open camps on national parks and in Ontario where Mennonites and Conscientious objectors will be sent for labor service where they will be supplied with their board and lodging and paid 50 cents a day.

They must supply their own clothing.

Men called into the army for compulsory training receive $1.30 per day and are supplied with clothing).

In the case of Doukhobors, all of them in western Canada, Mr. Gardiner said negotiations are being completed with provincial governments concerned whereby certain road projects will be carried on under provincial control and, under the same conditions as for conscientious objectors and Mennonites.

It is expected that the camps will be in operation by June 15.

HUDSON BAY TRAIN STOPS FOR SAUNTERING CARIBOU

Thousands of caribou, in some places so thick that they have halted the Hudson Bay train headed for Churchill.

ill, were reported trekking north last week. More than four thousand, including small ones, are travelling north for spring feeding and are in the great numbers between Mile 412 and 416. Recently, Fred Miller, engineer, was forced to stop the north train for the sauntering herd.

One of the greatest migrations of caribou in the north's history was reported early in November when they trekked nearer to civilization than they have ventured to date.

DAM RAISED; 2,000 WILD BIRDS ARE NESTING

Recent heavy rains have restored the water level of the C.N.R. dam, two miles west of Melville, Sask., to the normal of the past few years, and the anxieties of the officials regarding the water supply, since the level fell to a record low last fall, have been dispelled.

The dam and vicinity were made a wild life sanctuary two years ago, and ducks particularly have increased this spring there, and it is estimated that 2,000 are now nesting there. Wild geese and pelicans were among the larger birds noticed at the dam. They stopped over, resting for a few days at the dam before resuming their migratory flight to nesting grounds further north.

"Were you cool in battle?"
"Cool—why, I shivered."

SPORT FISH FOR ALTA. RESORTS

With the angling fishing season now open in this province, attention to the value of this asset from a tourist standpoint is being drawn by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

At a recent meeting of provincial directors of the A.M.A., Major Selby Walker, of Calgary, stated that approximately 80 per cent of American tourist cars carry fishing tackle.

He stated that sport fishermen, numbering some 12,000,000, spend on an average $875,000,000 a year for licenses, tackle, special clothing transportation, meals, lodging, boats and guide hire. For tackle alone they spend $15,000,000 a year, compared with $138,000,000 spent for golf equipment.

These big figures on such expenditures show the importance of having Alberta lakes and streams well stocked with trout and other sport fish, so that tourists will not go away disappointed.

Seniors: "I suppose you carry your wife's picture with you on all your travels?"
Senior: "SI, senorita. I've found nothing that will cure a spell of homesickness quicker."

"What are you doing, dear?"
"Looking for a husband."
"But you've already got one."
"That's the one I'm looking for."

Over in England now, there is a radio comedian who sets his listeners laughing with recipes like the follow-

"Take a large sirloin steak, smother

If this radio program could be re-

COMMITTEE OR MEMBER THEREOF, ANY BRANCH IN CANADA OF ANY CHARTERED BANK, OR ANY AUTHORIZED SAVINGS BANK, TRUST OR LOAN COMPANY, FROM WHOM MAY BE OBTAINED
APPLICATION FORMS AND COPIES OF THE OFFICIAL PROSPECTUS CONTAINING COMPLETE DETAILS OF THE LOAN.

THE LISTS WILL OPEN ON 2ND JUNE 1941, AND WILL CLOSE NOT LATER THAN 21ST
JUNE 1941. WITH OR WITHOUT NOTICE AT THE DISCRETION OF THE MINISTER OF FINANCE.

Department of Finance,
Ottawa, 31st May 1941.

Sunday, June 8th has been designated by the Victory Loan Committee as "Victory Loan Sunday" and special services will be held in many of the churches throughout Canada to mark the occasion, and incidentally to help publicize the sale of Victory Loan Bonds.

Manager: Young man, have you the firmness of character that enables a person to do his duty in the face of ingratitude, criticism and even ridicule."

Applicant: "I should have. I cooked two weeks for a camping party."

Hesketh Farmer: "Potato bugs ate my whole crop in 10 days."
Carbon Farmer: "They ate mine in two days and then rooted in the trees to see if I'd plant some more."
Charlie Nash: "That's nothing; there is a couple over there now, looking through my books to see who has ordered seed for next spring."

"How did you lose your job at the dress shop, my dear?"

"Just because of something I said.
After I had tried twenty dresses on a woman, she said 'I think I'd look better in something better'; so I asked her why she didn't jump in the river."
